The data have been derived from the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor, and the work of compiling has been done by the Division of Production and Distribution.

This report is a continuation of a series of bulletins on the same subject designed for the use of this Department and to meet the demands of a large number of correspondents. They contain an arrangement of the statistics and a determination of totals, with various comparisons, not presented in any other publication.

It is respectfully recommended that this report be published as Bulletin 70 of this Bureau.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS.

IMPORTS.—Goods from a foreign country entered at a custom-house.

IMPORTS FOR CONSUMPTION.—The term “entry for consumption” is the technical name of the import entry made at the custom-house, and does not imply that the goods have been actually consumed, but simply that they have been delivered into the custody of the importer and that the duties have been paid on the dutiable portion. Some of them may be afterwards exported.

FOREIGN EXPORTS OR REEXPORTS.—Goods which have been imported into this country, either for reexport or for consumption, and are afterwards exported, having undergone no change in form or condition or enhancement in value by the application of labor in the United States.

DOMESTIC EXPORTS.—Goods produced or manufactured in this country from either domestic or imported raw materials, and which are shipped to foreign countries.

TRANSIT OR IN-TRANSIT TRADE.—Goods from a foreign country passing through the United States on the way to the same or another foreign country.

TRANSSHIPMENT TRADE.—Goods from a foreign country received at a United States port and there reshipped to a foreign country without being entered as an import into this country.

In-transit and transshipment trade is not included in the imports and exports of the United States, but is reported separately.

THE COUNTRY OF CONSIGNMENT is that which is mentioned in the exporting or importing documents at the one from which or to which the merchandise is to be shipped. The regulations of the Bureau of Statistics, Department of Commerce and Labor, are:

Collectors will consider the country in which merchandise was invoiced as the country whence the same was imported into the United States.

In export statements the countries stated should be, so far as can be ascertained, those for which the exports are destined for a market. * * * Exporters will be required to state in their manifests of goods exported the country of ultimate destination.

The country from which or to which goods are consigned may or may not be the country of origin or ultimate destination, as the case may be; the foregoing regulation with regard to the country of ultimate destination in export statements does not result in a material representation of countries of ultimate destination in place of countries of consignment in the records of the exports of this country, when these two countries are not the same.

VALUES.—The values of imported articles subject to ad valorem duties are defined by the act of Congress of June 10, 1890, as—

The actual market value or wholesale price of such merchandise as bought and sold in usual wholesale quantities at the time of exportation to the United States in the principal markets of the country from whence imported, and in the condition in which such merchandise is there bought for exportation to the United States or consigned to the United States for sale, including the value of all cartons, cases, crates, boxes, sacks, and coverings of any kind, and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition ready for shipment to the United States.

The value of all other imports, whether subject to specific duty or free of duty, is also determined according to the law just quoted.

The value of domestic exports is their declared value at the time of exportation in the ports of the United States whence they are exported, which the law requires to be stated under oath with penalty for misstatement.

The value of foreign exports when shipped directly from bonded warehouses (usually dutiable goods) is their import value, but when not shipped from bonded warehouses (usually free goods) the value is determined in the same manner as that of domestic exports.

Goods in transit through the United States from one foreign country to another are valued in the same manner as imports.

Valuation deceptions.—The value of imported articles subject to ad valorem duties is believed to be determined with more accuracy, according to the legal method of valuation, than the value of imports with specific duties or free of duty, or the value of exported articles; the valuations of dutiable imports and of exports dutiable in foreign countries tend to understatement; and the valuations of imports that are free of duty are liable to inflation for the purpose of trade deception.

WEIGHTS.—In the official trade returns of the United States the weights of all articles exported are net weights, and also the weights of all imports, except those which are subject to a specific duty levied upon the weight of the packages, including the weight of the article itself, together with some or all of its coverings.

All tons mentioned in this bulletin, except where it is otherwise stated, are long tons of 2,240 pounds.

DISCREPANCIES IN FOREIGN TRADE STATISTICS of various countries are partly due to different methods of estimating values, of determining countries of origin and destination, and of classifying merchandise, and to differences in dates. The United States does not regard a c. i. f. value (cost, insurance, freight) as the value of either exports or imports (except some foreign exports), while the United Kingdom, for instance, includes these in the value of its imports. It is said that these charges are often erroneously included by British shippers in their statement of export values, especially when the selling price includes insurance and freight.

The United States trade returns include the free ports of Hamburg, Bremen, and Lübeck in Germany, while the statistics of the German Empire did not prior to March 1, 1906.

In consequence of various sources of discrepancy, it is generally futile to undertake to balance an export of this country by any official statement of import into a foreign country, and often there is not an approximate agreement.

NONCONTIGUOUS POSSESSIONS.—The noncontiguous possessions of the United States are all those not included between Canada on the north and Mexico and the Gulf of Mexico on the south, and between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

The trade returns of all the possessions of this country, except the Philippine Islands, are included in the total trade of the United States. In the trade statistics for any noncontiguous possession, all other noncontiguous possessions, except the Philippine Islands, are included with the United States; thus, shipments from Hawaii to Guam are included in the total shipments from Hawaii to the United States.

IMPORTS OF FARM AND FOREST PRODUCTS, 1905-1907.

GENERAL SURVEY.

The farm products imported into the United States during the fiscal year 1907 were valued at $627,000,000, which was more than in any previous year, and exceeded the value in 1906 by $73,000,000. Beginning with 1902, each fiscal year has shown an increase in imports of farm products over the previous year, the total increase from 1901 to 1907 being $235,000,000. The value of imports not classed as agricultural was so great in 1907 that farm products formed only 43.7 per cent of the total. On the basis of value, for ten years prior to 1900 more than one-half of the imports consisted of agricultural products, but for the eight years beginning with 1900 this class of articles was less than one-half of the total.

More than three times as much, in value, of forest products was imported in 1907 as in 1890 and more than twice as much as in 1900. In ten years, from 1897 to 1907, the value of this class of imports gained $77,000,000, the amount being $45,000,000 in 1897 and $122,000,000 in 1907. (See Table 2.) The relative importance of grand divisions in regard to the value of farm and forest products imported from them was the same in 1907 as in 1906, with one exception: South America ranked second as a source of forest products in 1906 and first in 1907. Of the farm products, $204,000,000 worth in 1907 came from Europe, $156,000,000 from North America, $125,000,000 from Asia, and $142,000,000 from the other three grand divisions. As shown in Table 3, the largest percentage of gain from 1905 to 1907 was in the case of Africa; farm products from this grand division amounted to $11,000,000 in 1905 and $19,000,000 in 1907, while the corresponding figures for forest products were $288,000 and $765,000, respectively.

In each of the three years mentioned in Table 4, farm products imported from Cuba exceeded in value those from any other country, and were $11,000,000 more than in 1906. A larger gain, $13,000,000, was made by imports of this class of articles from Japan, and other big increases included $8,000,000 each for Brazil and Italy, $7,000,000 for Egypt, $6,000,000 for Germany, and $3,000,000 each for the United Kingdom, the Chinese Empire, the Netherlands, and British Australasia. Imports of farm products from the Dutch East Indies were $9,000,000 less in 1907 than in 1906.

The value of forest products imported from Brazil, Canada, and the United Kingdom in 1907 was $70,000,000, and the total from all countries (67 in number) was $122,000,000. The greatest increase in value of imports of forest products from 1906 to 1907 for any one country was $9,000,000 for Brazil, and the largest percentage of increase among the important countries was made by British Honduras, the value in 1906 being $500,000 and in 1907 nearly $4,200,000. Large relative gains occurred also in the imports from Cuba, Argentina, and Japan, the total imports of forest products from these countries being $2,600,000 in 1906 and $5,800,000 in 1907. (See Table 5.)

Of the 28 chief items of farm products imported in 1907, as mentioned in Table 6, the aggregate value of 5 was $400,000,000, while the other 23 items together were worth something over one-half as much. The 5 leading items and their values were: Packing-house products, $96,000,000; sugar and molasses, $94,000,000; coffee, $78,000,000; silk, $71,000,000; and vegetable fibers, chiefly cotton, sisal, manila, and jute, $62,000,000. The total value of these 5 items in 1906 was $360,000,000 and in 1905 $368,000,000. Of the forest products imported in 1907, nearly one-half of the value was due to india rubber. The gain in value of imports of this article in 1907 over 1906 was $14,000,000, or 31 per cent.

The value of farm products received by the United States from its island possessions and Alaska in 1907 was $57,000,000. Hawaii contributed about one-half of these shipments in each of the three years, and almost all the rest was supplied by Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands. (See Tables 7 to 11, inclusive.) In 1907 the value of sugar sent to the United States from these possessions was $43,000,000; of manila fiber, $11,000,000, and of fruits, $1,000,000. Shipments of forest products to the United States from these possessions have been of slight importance, their value in 1907 being $20,000 and in 1906 only $3,000.

The following articles in Table 12 were reported for the first time in 1907: Grapes, olives, copra, cream and Brazil nuts, palm nuts and kernels, palm oil, clover seed, guayule, mangrove bark, extract of quebracho, quebracho wood, and pulp wood.
